People Plow, Dig and Plant To Help City

Big Beautification Campaign In Full Swing—Merchants Pledge Aid

Sierra Madre is responding nobly to the suggestion of the Woman's Club that the city be made as beautiful as possible, and that its outstanding characteristic be developed to the highest degree by the planting of a wistaria vine in every garden and doorway.

Civic organizations continue to endorse the campaign and the individual members to pledge their whole hearted support of the plan as well as to encourage and make outstanding the proposed Fall Flower Festival.

Everywhere home owners are digging and planting. S. K. Lessley and C. E. Trimble, contractors, report that they have plowed up 60 vacant lots and fields, the owners of which are not only interested in reducing fire hazard when the hot, dry weather arrives, but are prepared to plant wild flowers when the rains begin next fall. Many other property owners and householders have contracted for similar work.

Demand For Vines

The local landscape gardeners and nurserymen report an unprecedented demand for wistaria vines and for shrubs, and for summer and fall blooming plants obviously intended for participation in the Flower Festival, and with the idea of joining into the plan to make beautiful Sierra Madre even more charming and picturesque than it now is.

The Mercantile Association at a meeting on Monday night sincerely pledged its heartiest cooperation to the whole program by the adoption of the following resolution:

Whereas, The Woman's Club has inaugurated a city clean-up and beautifying campaign intended to encourage all home owners to plant wistaria vines so that their spring-time glory will further enhance the attractiveness of our city during the annual Fete, and thus spread our fame as the garden spot of Southern California over a wider field, Be it

Resolved, That this organization dedicate itself to the success of this proposal with the promise that we will lend the fullest cooperation, not only as a unit but as individuals and will contribute all possible help not only in the planting of wistaria, but in the clearing of all unsightly spots and approaches to the main highways for the planting of wild flowers. And it is further

Resolved, That this organization will render the fullest support in the promotion of a flower show to be held in Sierra Madre this fall, at a date later to be decided upon.

Women Are Pleased

The subject of beautification will come before the City Planning Commission at a meeting of that body scheduled for next Tuesday evening, probably with the idea of co-ordinating the efforts of various organizations that have indicated their desire to give the utmost of their endeavors towards the movement to have the city appear at its very best. The Woman's Club officials are deeply gratified at the manner in which the whole community is entering into the movement. They regard the Fall Flower Festival as already an assured and outstanding success with the certainty that next year's Wistaria Festival will not only far surpass any preceding event in Sierra Madre's history, but that the visiting throngs will leave with an even more exalted idea of the city's beauty.

At a meeting of the Woman's Club last Wednesday Miss Clara Sykes, treasurer of the Fete committee, submitted a final financial report of the recent fete showing bank deposits of $6275.96 and disbursements of $5032.49, leaving a balance of $1243.47. Of the total expenditures $4007.52 went to the local merchants, it being the policy of the organization to buy outside the city only those supplies and materials that could not be had here.

UPLAND WANTS TO BE MOST BEAUTIFUL CITY

Upland's annual clean-up week has been fixed for the first week in June, when the city will not only clean up, but plant and beautify generally. Richard G. Manley, city service manager, has been designated to direct the work and the townspeople have agreed to co-operate with him to the fullest possible extent in the hope that their city will become the most beautiful city in the Southland.

NEWCOMERS BUY HOME

Miss Jeannie Green has sold her house at 135 East Highland avenue, to Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bristol, newcomers from Minnesota. The house will be occupied by the Bristols and their son and daughter.

OPERA STAR IN NEW YORK SINGS OWN SONGS ON RADIO TO MOTHER HERE IN NATIONAL BROADCAST

Sierra Madre Parent Hears Daughter's Voice in Coast-to-Coast Hook-Up

Mother's Day was Sierra Madre Day on the radio. A national broadcast brought a Sierra Madre girl's voice to her mother here.

Kathleen Lockhart Manning was given the signal honor of being asked to sing a number of her own compositions in a coast-to-coast hook-up over the Columbia broadcasting system from New York City. In the Kathleen Lockhart Manning hour, from 1 to 1:30 Pacific Coast time, a dozen of the local composer's songs were heard, ranging in mood from the most exquisite melancholy to riotous childish fancy. Mrs. Manning was accompanied by a chorus in some of the numbers. The beautiful "Luxembourg Garden," probably the best known of Mrs. Manning's compositions, closed the program.

MOTHER'S DAY CELEBRATED WITH REMEMBRANCES IN EVERY HOME

Mother's Day, last Sunday, was celebrated in some way in nearly every home in Sierra Madre. Some token of remembrance, either from far away or from some near kin, in the way of flowers, a present, a dinner party, or a family reunion, brought joy to the hearts of mothers young and old. The spirit of Mother's Day was uppermost in the church services, too.

Among older residents of the city enjoying a reunion honoring the mother of the family, were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Steinberger, 529 West Mariposa avenue. Members of the family present were Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Steinberger, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Steinberger, Sierra Madre; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steinberger, Santa Ana; Laurel Steinberger, Dr. A. M. Weston and Dr. Edith Weston, Los Angeles.

Dr. Donald L. Farrell, of Oxnard, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Farrell, last Sunday, in honor of Mother's Day. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Humphries called together a Humphries family reunion on Mother's Day, with fifteen guests at dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Young Jr., of 209 West Highland avenue, had a Mother's Day dinner in honor of Mrs. Young's mother. Guests were Mrs. Mary L. Peck, of Los Angeles, Mrs. M. F. Gregory, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. C. F. Gregory, of Highland Park.

Roes Have Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. North and Mr. and Mrs. James Fallon were week end guests of Mrs. William Roe.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Rikeman attended the Mother's Day services at the Elks' Club in Los Angeles. Frederick K. Ward, who formerly took the leading part in the Mission Play, spoke on Mothers' Day. A ritualistic service was carried out.

New Hotel Is Planned For Baldwin Ave.

Sierra Madre is to have another hotel. Nicholas Rodes, new owner of the Dr. Powers property at 65-71 North Baldwin avenue, announced yesterday that he is having plans made for a 45-room hotel, that is to be built at once.

"It will be a credit to Sierra Madre in every way," said Mr. Rodes, "because I have every confidence in the future of the city. In fact, I am about to begin the construction of another and even more imposing building not far from the hotel site, but I will discuss that later. The architecture of the two structures will be in harmony, and in keeping with the spirit of the city."

"I anticipate that work on the hotel will be started about the middle of June and that we will be able to receive guests before the influx of winter residents."

Advertising Value Stressed to Local Kiwanis Members

"Advertising—rightly directed and intelligently used—pays a thousand times over—experience has shown that."

This was the significant conclusion drawn by Charles E. Sydnor, director of the Pasadena Research Bureau of Advertising and Sales Counsel, appearing before the local Kiwanis Club at its Tuesday luncheon.

"Of course, the size of the business has a bearing on the amount of advertising to be done," he went on. "The only way a merchant can profit by advertising is through the establishment of a regular budget for that purpose, and by keeping persistently at it."

ably the best known of Mrs. Manning's compositions, closed the program.

The occasion was a joyful one for Mrs. Manning. Writing to her mother, Mrs. Otis Lockhart, of Alegria street, a few days before the concert, she said, "To think it is Mother's day and my father's birthday. I can't help but feel he had something to do with my success. No one will believe I could get such a chance without paying for it."

Just an hour after the close of Mrs. Manning's another Sierra Madrean contributed to the joy of a Mother's Day program, Charles Omeron, accompanied by Wesley Tourtellot, sang from station KHL, "Candlelight" to a musical score written by Charles Wakefield Cadman.

The words of this song were written by Lee Shippey of Sierra Madre.

daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wright, from Deeth, Nev., remembering the day, was received by Mrs. Jessica Wright, postmaster here, who was honored with a dinner in Monrovia on Saturday night given by Mr. and Mrs. C. Hall Perry. In the party also were Mrs. William Carson Shaw, also an honor guest, and her son, Dudley Shaw.

The first anniversary as a mother was celebrated, honoring Mrs. Emil Sturmhuth, 106 South Hermosa street. A surprise included a full course dinner brought from Los Angeles by the family of Mr. Sturmhuth. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sturmhuth, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Sturmhuth, Miss Olga Sturmhuth and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pine.

Motor Party Here

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McDonough and children, Beverly Jean and John, of San Gabriel, motored here for tea with Mrs. McDonough's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Campbell, 484 Mariposa avenue.

A family reunion celebrated Mother's Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Halstrum, 651 Woodland drive. Those present at noon dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Hartwig E. Henry and young son, Ronald; Mr. and Mrs. Einar Halstrum and daughter, Joyce, of Glendale; and Theodore Halstrum, of this city.

Mrs. A. N. Ifrig, 525 Woodland drive, was honored at dinner by her sons and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Ifrig, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lincoln and daughter June, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Hill, 47 South Lima avenue, entertained for Mr. Hill's mother, Mrs. Hortense Hill, the following guests: Miss Marjorie Thomas, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge, Miss Elizabeth Morgridge and Howard Morgridge.

Mr. and Mrs. William Middough, 196 East Central avenue, entertained for Mrs. Middough's mother, Mrs. J. D. Wallace, of Long Beach. Other guests were Lew H. Wallace, Newport Beach; Max Wallace and Will Wallace, Long Beach.

Honoring his mother, Will Brown, of Whittier, spent Sunday with Mrs. Anna M. Haas, at Mountain View Lodge, on Brookside Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Blazek returned Tuesday to their home on Holly Trail Path from a week's visit in Long Beach and Los Angeles. On Sunday Mrs. Blazek was the honor guest at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. Murray, in Los Angeles.

Contributors to Little Art Gallery Are Honored Here

A crowd of enthusiastic admirers attended the informal reception given last Sunday, May 10, in honor of the artists featured in the present exhibit at the Little Art Gallery in the city hall. Marie Crowe, Virginia Frances Sterrett and Lois Eaton were the artists honored by many out-of-town as well as local connoisseurs.

The gallery was attractively prepared for the guests and a basket of guava blossoms contributed by Mrs. J. W. Dorman added to the decorations. Assisting Mrs. Fred Griebow, chairman of art of the Woman's Club, in the introduction of the artists, were Miss Beatrice Ward, Miss Laura E. Cadmus and Mrs. Alfred James Dewey Sr.

After the reception, the artists were entertained during the evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Griebow. Others invited were Lee Shippey, Homer Croy, Clare Cronewett, of the Little Studio on Gold Hill, Monrovia; Dr. Rosemary Ziegler of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Burbank, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ivins Hawhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred James Dewey Sr., Mme. de Beaulieu, and Mercedes Grassl.

Board Asks Bids for New School Here

Expected Contractor Will Be At Work On Building Within 30 Days

Sierra Madre came one step nearer its dream of a new $210,000 public school building this week when, following receipt of the bond money with which the work is to be carried on, the school trustees advertised for bids for the work. They will be received until June 2 and the contract will be awarded immediately thereafter. It is anticipated that the work will be started within the next 30 days and that the new building will be ready when the new fall semester begins.

The plans call for a modern California structure of two stories and part basement. It will contain 16 classrooms, kindergarten department, offices, library, open-air sun porch, 600-seat auditorium, cafeteria and kitchen.

An endeavor will be made to preserve the patio, one of the most delightful features of the old school, according to Elizabeth Steinberger, the principal.

Woman's Club Holds Adieu Forum Party

Big Crowd At Farewell Dinner To Dr. Roman In Sierra Madre

Sierra Madre's Woman's Club bade Dr. Frederick W. Roman farewell at a dinner in his honor Monday night, preceding the final Forum of the season. He is about to depart for Europe.

Opening the forum, Leo H. Sanisier, accompanied by Miss Shirley Hannibal, sang a group of three selections: "To the Little Star," by Modest Moussorgsky; "The Volga Boat Song" (Chaliapin version), and "Passing By," a seventeenth century composition written in the spirit of Mother's Day.

Dr. Roman, in his final message to the members and friends of the Forum, was never more inspirational, never more effective in his application of education and culture to the progress of civilization.

"Real democracy," he said in part, "is that condition where talent can be called forth at any point irrespective of social or traditional barriers. Wherever you find a state that is ruled by a top-heavy system of rules and regulations, traditions and castes, instead of by intelligence, you have a state that is fast crumbling."

"Education must call forth responsibility. It must tie in with the interest and capacity of the growing child. It is often better to make mistakes in education and let the child build them up again in order that he may understand the whole process of what he is studying. Modern education is too polished, too perfect. It leaves nothing for the mind to work with. It does not stimulate interest or challenge attention."

"I want to tell the Forum how much I have enjoyed the association of the past year," said Dr. Roman in closing. "I hope to be with you again as soon as possible."

Mrs. J. H. Robertson, president of the Woman's Club, closed the Forum by extending to Dr. Roman the deep appreciation of the organization for the opportunity it has had to turn his lectures into real principles of living.

Three Sierra Madre Girls Get Degrees In Berkeley Class

Among the 2586 students who marched into the Memorial Stadium at Berkeley to the strains of the Star Spangled Banner on Wednesday to receive their degrees were three Sierra Madreans—members of the 1930 graduating class of the University of California.

Mary Emily Allen, daughter of H. E. Allen and Cecily A. Allen, received her A. B. degree. She was a science major and will return to Berkeley immediately as a candidate for an M. A. degree. She attended Pasadena High School. Her parents went north for the commencement exercises.

Annette Mary Carter, daughter of A. N. Carter of West Alegria Avenue received an A. B. degree majoring in Botany.

The third local graduate, Hazel Kathleen Kincald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kincald of 81 West Alegria Avenue, won an advanced degree in library work, the field which she intends to enter.

90 Per Cent of Central Ave. Owners Approve Project For Improvement

The Seeing Eye And Understanding Heart Will Come To Sierra Madre When New Boulevard Is Completed

(This is the second of a series of articles by well known citizens on the effect they believe the widening and extension of Central Avenue into Pasadena will have upon the future of Sierra Madre. We are sure Mrs. Wright's fine contribution will be thoroughly enjoyed by readers of THE NEWS)

By JESSICA H. WRIGHT

With the turning of the first shovelful of earth on the Central Avenue project some time this summer, when all the last minute legal snarls are smoothed out, a great rejoicing will bubble in the hearts of Sierra Madreans. For that shovelful of earth will mean the successful conclusion of more than fifteen years of struggle to obtain a direct westerly outlet for the city.

The completion of that highway is bound to bring growth and change to this city. Many more people than in the past will drive through this community, and those with the seeing eye and the appreciation of charm will realize its marvelous possibilities for a home.

Those who have studied the matter most thoroughly do not expect any sudden influx of population nor any "boom." Heaven save Sierra Madre from a boom! That would take away from this city its greatest asset—an individuality all its own, an atmosphere no other place in the state can duplicate.

But the highway would materially aid and speed up the steady, sane growth this city has experienced—a quiet, consistent growth that has brought here so many desirable citizens.

Being up here in a little pocket of the hills, more or less isolated, out of the main line of traffic, has been far from an unmixed evil to Sierra Madre. To many who love this city, it has been a great advantage. In the mad rush and hurly-burly of modern life here is one safe haven; a lovely peaceful little spot where one can find quiet and beauty and privacy, and yet be within easy reach of all that a great city can offer.

The real, dyed-in-the-wool Sierra Madrean, consciously or unconsciously, always draws a breath of relief when he turns out of the main line of traffic and starts the last climb towards these hills and home. The air is different up here, and the home surroundings are different, and the people are different, and the whole atmosphere is different, and, if the fates are kind and the civic leaders don't get led astray after the false gods of jazz and standardization, Sierra Madre will stay different. And that difference has a very great monetary as well as artistic value.

The new highway will bring more visitors to this town and the lure of the atmosphere will pull some of them back to stay. They will be the ones we most desire, for they will be the ones with the eyes to see and the hearts to understand.

Help The City Beautiful

Sierra Madre is, and always will be, a city of homes. The coming of the highway, as it brings the home-seeker, also brings the problem of presenting the best appearance to that home-seeker. As always, a new privilege brings a new responsibility.

All who have worked for the extension of Central Avenue should be equally interested in the clean-up and beautifying campaign now under way. Sierra Madre as a whole is beautiful—Sierra Madre in spots is most unbeautiful. It is up to Sierra Madre to show all the leopards of the world a real campaign in changing spots. All the civic agencies must work earnestly and harmoniously to change those spots. Only in that way can the city reap the greatest benefit from the money invested in this road project.

The highway is a certainty. It is not too early to take every possible step to obtain the greatest possible returns on that certainty.

Feast of St. Rita to Be Observed With Special Program

The Feast of St. Rita, which occurs on May 22, will be appropriately celebrated at St. Rita's Church with the distribution of roses on Sunday, May 25. The event has always attracted many visitors to Sierra Madre, the attendance having several times exceeded 2,000.

The blessing of the roses will take place May 25th at 3:30 p. m. Those who wish may bring roses. A supply has been ordered, so that all may get a rose.

INTERESTING PROGRAM FOR MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Congregational church will meet on Tuesday, May 25, at 10:30 in the Social Hall. As many ladies as can, are requested to meet in the parlor to work on comforters for the foreign quota. Luncheon will be served at 12:30, after which Miss Haskell, sister of Rev. Mr. Haskell, of Bulgaria, will speak on the work in Bulgaria, where she was for many years. Mrs. A. A. Halsey, chairman for the program, will give some highlights on Our First Americans. Music will be provided by Mrs. Myrtle Hill. Reports from the recent conference.

Coming -- Story of Sierra Madre From Desert Waste To Garden Spot In Next Week's Issue of THE NEWS

You'll want every friend you've got to have a copy of next week's SIERRA MADRE NEWS. It will contain two absorbing stories of Sierra Madre's amazing growth from the arrival of the covered wagon pioneers through the years of development into its coveted position as the Garden Spot of California.

Harry Burke is writing the stories, which are really thrilling—full of romance and adventure. A woman who saw the canyons tapped for water that turned a desert into a bouquet is featured in one of them. In the other the oldest merchant follows the lanes he found into the shops and stores of the business district you know. It is the background, the environment of the city you live in.

Citizen's Protest Answered by Mayor Myers at Meeting Of City Council This Week.

The signatures of ninety per cent of the property owners on Central Avenue on a petition favoring the proposed improvement and extension, was the answer of Mayor Al Myers, to a protest made by E. Waldo Ward, at a meeting of city council on Wednesday night. In a vigorous speech Mr. Ward had declared that the proposed extension through Hastings ranch, to make an outlet to the West, "was poor business procedure and of doubtful value to the city." It was the sort of action, he said, that led to the revolution fought by the first Americans against taxation without representation.

Mr. Ward said that every dollar spent at this time would be wasted, and that the work was the business of the property owners, who would probably do it themselves within five years.

Central Avenue Pays

Mayor Myers answered that the improvement will be paid for by the residents of Central Avenue, and the cost of the road through the Hastings ranch will be paid for by Mr. Hastings and the City of Pasadena. The mayor told Mr. Ward that all details will be made public before actual work is started.

Assessment of general benefit only, such as acquisition and bridges, will be paid for by the city, explained Mayor Myers.

The plans for the improvement were presented by H. S. Gierlich, the engineer in charge. They have all been checked by attorneys and engineers, he said, except as to zoning, and these will be soon ready for the city engineer, Earl J. Lynde. The matter of drainage across East Central, into the Little Santa Anita, at the cemetery, will be checked as to flood waters by Phil Dodson, city attorney, said Mr. Gierlich, and taken up with the city of Arcadia. Mr. Gierlich also reported that Pasadena had approved jurisdiction, except for zoning and type of paving.

It was stated today that the resolution of intention would probably be ready for presentation to council at the next meeting of council.

A letter from the secretary of the Sierra Madre Public Library announced the appointment of W. R. Alley, as president of the library board.

U. S. Makes Offer

V. P. Vetter, of the United States Forest Service, presented a plan by which the city would aid the national government in caring for the forest acreage in the upper part of the city by an annual deposit of $160. The national government in turn will pay the expense of fighting any fires that may occur in the forest acreage or in the city itself. Vetter was requested to turn in a detailed report of the proposed agreement at the next council meeting. The city now pays $60 a month, six months a year, for practically the same protection.

City Clerk Elmer A. Green read to the council a communication from the corresponding secretary of the Woman's Club commending the city for its $500 appropriation for the advertising of the Wistaria Fete.

The council empowered City Engineer Earl J. Lynde to proceed with the laying of the water pipe line on Morton street, the cost of this improvement to be borne by D. F. Morton. The matter of easements on this improvement was not considered, the authorization covering only the physical laying of the line.

The use of the Park House for this evening was granted the Chess Club.

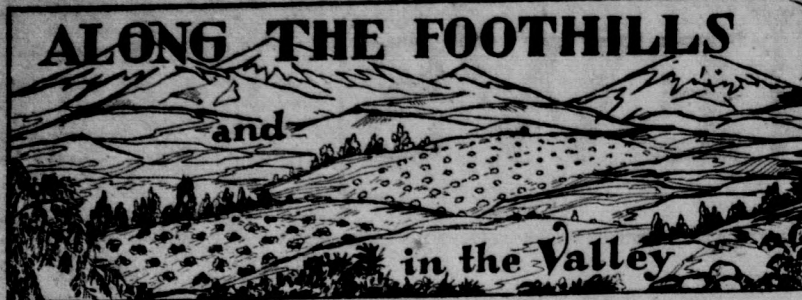

A request for an increase of salary of from $150 a month to $180 a month for Police Chief G. G. McMillan, also went to the committee, together with the matter of repairing street crossing lines. A new agreement from the County Health Department, increasing the monthly cost to the city from $100 to $125, went to the sanitation committee.

ALMON L. SMITH DIES

Almon L. Smith, 88-year old Sierra Madre resident residing at 602 West Mariposa, passed away this morning. He leaves only two cousins living in Glendora. He came to Sierra Madre eight years ago. The services will be held at the Ray A. Grant Funeral parlor tomorrow at 2 P. M.

MARCOTTS BUY STUDIO HOME IN THE CANYON

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Marcott, of Alhambra, have purchased the house and two lots on Vista Circle drive, formerly owned by Miss Hazel Roberts, well known artist, who commenced the home as a studio. The structure was never finished. The property has been in charge of Miss Laura A. Cadmus, through whose agency the sale was made.

Census taker M. Bartmus found two Mexican families totaling 18 persons living in one room in Huntington Park.

The latest in sports in Altadena among school children is a hop-scotch contest. Prizes were awarded to winners.

Richard Schulz of Huntington Park, who has a stenographer Schulz, crashed with motorcyclist Schulz, accompanied by passenger Schulz. Both were treated by Nurse Schulz. None are related.

Ontario's municipal airport is threatened with closing. The city council has demanded of the Chamber of Commerce and American Legion to show cause why it should be maintained, it being claimed that it is not an asset to the city because it cannot care for large planes. The civic organizations have two weeks in which to answer.

At a Republican conference held at Long Beach a movement started for the formation of a congressional district exclusively for the San Gabriel Valley, eliminating Pasadena entirely. It was argued that Pasadena is really not in the valley, but is seeking to extract water from the valley basin. The leaders wish the district to include Alhambra, south to Huntington Park, Whittier and Pomona, as well as the intervening territory.

There are 5,451 people in Upland township, as revealed by the census, or 712 outside the city limits of Upland. In the area are 365 farms, 261 inside the city, an added number of 104. In 1920 the township had a population of 3,256. Cucamonga's new figure is 4747, compared with 2796 in 1920.

The San Bernardino-Redlands highway is promising an alluring vista in the future by the planting of 500 Washington palms between Redlands and the Santa Ana river by the State. They will be maintained by the State until they reach maturity. It is the first work of beautification the commonwealth has ever fostered.

The new foothill boulevard, improved and widened within the city limits, was formally opened and dedicated last Saturday at Azusa. The new boulevard is seventy-six feet wide, has ornamental lights and sidewalks and cost $260,000. With the widening of the bridge over the San Gabriel river it represents the largest road improvement in the East end of the valley.

For the first time in twenty years the white haired veterans of the Civil War will be missing at the public school patriotic exercises at Pasadena, observing Memorial Day. Because the average of the G. A. R. veterans is 85, the task is too great, and the ranks of the survivors very thin, the John R. Godfrey Post will be unable to send its file and drum corps to the schools, as has been the custom.

"Missing Two Toes," the monster mountain lion, long sought by hunters near Redlands, is no more. The beast slew a deer near Big Meadows. C. W. Ledshaw, State hunter, got out his dogs and took up the trail. The lion made use of every ruse known to hunted animals but could not shake off the pack and was finally treed at the mouth of Holcomb creek. Unlike its kind the lion dropped to the ground to make a last stand against dogs and man. He measured seven feet two inches from tip to tip, and weighed 140 lbs. "Missing Two Toes" lost his toes in a trap two years ago and had been marking his trail ever since.

Strenuous protest against the proposal of County Librarian Helen E. Vogleson to consolidate the libraries of South Santa Anita and Temple City, with headquarters in the Pacific Electric building, Temple City, is contained in a petition signed by residents of Santa Anita and filed with the board of county supervisors. Mrs. Mary A. Cogan, librarian at Santa Anita, says the library there circulates 1100 books a month, has been in existence many years, and there is ample room and a demand for both libraries.

District Inspector R. N. Hutchinson, of the county horticultural commissioner's office, has liberated 850,000 cryoteleums, or ladybug beetles, in the orchards of the Covina valley. It is a small beetle, black with orange head and tips, different from the red beetle that feeds on aphids. They destroy the mealybug. The work of controlling the Argentine ant in Covina and valley started this week.

In Your Garden--Now

What To Plant—What To Do

By Jessie Ward
Landscape Gardener

SHRUBS THAT WILL BLOOM IN SUMMER AND FALL

WITH everyone digging about in their gardens, joining gleefully in the campaign to make Sierra Madre supremely beautiful and in preparation for a wonderful Fall Flower Festival and a record-breaking Wistaria Fete next spring, it is not amiss to suggest some shrubs that will bloom in the Summer and Fall. Those enumerated here are all colorful and lend themselves to almost any garden.

Buddleia or Summer Lilac.—Tall, fast-growing shrub with light purple lilac-like flowers. Fragrant. Suitable shrub for background planting where you need height.

Cestrum Aurantiacum.—Large shrub bearing clusters of orange tubular shaped flowers. A very showy bush.

Duranta Plumieri.—Large shrub covered with blue flowers in sprays which are splendid for cutting and mixing with other flowers in bouquets. The flowers are followed by attractive yellow berries that remain all winter.

Oleander.—This well known shrub does exceptionally well in Sierra Madre and with very little care. The single varieties come in white, light pink, deep pink and red. The double ones are white, rose pink and salmon.

Dwarf Pomegranate.—For a low flowering shrub to plant in front of groups of shrubbery or for a low hedge, the dwarf flowering pomegranate can be used for color. Its cheerful ruffled scarlet flowers are blooming eight months of the year.

Other summer and fall flowering shrubs that I will talk about in more detail in another article soon under the title of Sub-Tropical Plants are Hibiscus, Erythrina, Grevillea and Streptosolium.

In the Gardens About Town I See:

In the garden of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Corlett, on East Mira Monte, a splendid specimen of the yellow flowering "Bottle Brush" or Callistemon Hybrid, also a vine of Bignonia Chereche with its beautiful cherry red trumpets. This is the same vine as the one that is so famous on the front of the Huntington Library.

A bright red specimen of the same "Bottle Brush" mentioned above, in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wolfe, on East Highland. This Hybrid Callistemon comes in many shades. They are all handsome shrubs, even the foliage being unusually attractive. It is dark green with all new growth a bronzy-red. The form of the shrub is graceful also. And

Citrus Growers

Let's get together and gain these 10 extra benefits:

THE California Fruit Growers Exchange has been growing and increasing the scope and efficiency of its service for thirty-seven years. Now 12,000 growers—three out of every four in California—market their fruit through this one great cooperative, because they find that its methods bring them higher returns than they can get any other way.

Yet we Exchange growers believe that further economies and even greater efficiencies are possible if more growers will utilize the Exchange's services. Here are ten specific benefits that will result from a greater centralization of marketing control:

1. A more uniform and intelligent movement of the varieties over their respective seasons.
2. A more accurate, original distribution of the shipments among the markets.
3. More complete and accurate records of the total consuming capacity of the different markets under varying conditions.
4. A more uniform and equitable handling of emergency conditions in the industry by the producers themselves.
5. A broader dissemination within the industry of advantageous developments in cultural, handling and packing methods.

6. Lower marketing costs.
7. Lower costs of supplies.
8. A larger fund for consumer advertising and trade work, without increasing the cost per box.
9. A safer and more stable business for the trade, enabling them to handle the fruit on smaller margins.
10. A stronger position for the industry in handling the general problems of freight rates, tariffs, wages, trade relations and trade practices, taxes, and, in fact, every problem of the industry, because every problem is common to all growers.

Every one of these points means greater profits to you—through still greater effectiveness in the proved success of large-scale cooperative marketing, grower-owned and grower-controlled.

We Exchange members ask you to join hands with us for your own benefit, and for the benefit of the whole industry. Talk to the manager of your nearest District Exchange or Exchange Association, or write now to Growers Service Bureau, California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station "C", Los Angeles, for further information.

WHAT THE EXCHANGE IS: The California Fruit Growers Exchange is a non-profit organization of more than 12,000 California citrus fruit growers, producing over 75% of the California citrus crop, operated by and for them on a cooperative basis. Its object is to develop the national and international market for California Oranges, Lemons and Grapefruit, and to provide a marketing organization that will sell the fruit of its members most advantageously and at least expense. Receipts from sales, less only actual cost of operation, are returned to growers. Applications are received through all the Exchange's 209 local packing associations, 23 District Exchanges, or at the central offices in Los Angeles.

New York Saintly, But Oh, How Bad Los Angeles Is!

New York is the crimeless city, says Police Commissioner Whalen, in comparison with six other leading centers. St. Louis stands first, Los Angeles second, in the number of violent crimes, he says, and produces statistics to show the number of lawbreakings per 100,000 population.

New York has 4319, or 71.1 per 100,000, Chicago 9509, or 306.7 percent, Philadelphia 2210 or 110.5 percent, 3671, or 282.4 per cent; Los Angeles 6953, or 536.6 percent; Cleveland 4685, or 467.5 percent, and St. Louis 5676, or 705.7 per cent.

The criminal of today is usually a youngster, he says.

It will grow well in dry, hot places.

SPECTATORS CHEER AS MOTHER HUNTER IS FREED BY JURY

Judge, prosecutor and spectators joined in acclaim when a Pasadena jury returned a verdict of not guilty against Mrs. Opal Hunter, who was charged with running a hotel without a license, failing to require guests to register, and letting them sleep in the garage. Mrs. Hunter, who is well known as Mother Hunter, has befriended hundreds of homeless persons. None were ever turned away from her home on Kensington drive.

The prosecutors and judge declared, amid the cheers of spectators, that Mother Hunter is doing a noble work, and offered a substantial cash donation to further her philanthropic activities. Mother Hunter was arrested following complaints of neighbors that her residence was becoming a mecca for itinerants. She promised that "as soon as God wills it," she will leave a headquarters for her kindly ministrations in an unrestricted district.

John Masefield, who roamed the world as a ship's cook, and once worked his way across America as a farm hand, later was a porter in a New York saloon, has won the post of poet laureate of England, by appointment of King George.

Two million, nine hundred thousand dollars has been subscribed to date to the Semi-Centennial Fund of the University of Southern California, which is being created to mark the completion of the first fifty years' service of the university. Of the amount so far pledged, $1,685,289 has come from persons not connected with the University. Of the balance $901,506 has been given by alumni.

The Department of Commerce says California leads the states with 2244 airmen, or one-sixth of the 12,000 licensed pilots, 200 of whom are women. New York has 1153, Illinois 671, and Texas is fourth with 640. New York has the largest number of airplanes, having 984.

Gas caused more accidental deaths than fire arms in California last year. Its toll of 130 victims was exceeded only by the following: Automobiles 2,058; deaths by fall 885, drowning 332, and burns 266. Other causes listed are: Firearms 98, airplanes 92, motorcycles 32, electric shocks 63, excessive heat 87, and freezing 2.

The handsome new million dollar British Embassy in Washington will have for its first mistress someone who can truly appreciate and use the spacious grounds surrounding the embassy. For Mrs. Ronald Lindsey, wife of the recently appointed ambassador from Great Britain, is a landscape artist.

The Maryland chapter of the Sigma Nu Fraternity planned a banquet while the University of Maryland was holding an egg-laying contest, and ordered three initiates to supply the chickens. It has just been disclosed that the banqueters consumed three of the prize hens, valued at $2,500, and the university will have to make good.

Charles M. Schwab, of Bethlehem Steel, says his organization has figured out stress-bearing and weight-carrying capacity of steel construction to show that it is mechanically possible to erect a skyscraper 18,000 feet high, or 1,800 stories. The building would have a tremendous base. One obstacle in the way would be the present type of elevator. It would be necessary to devise a multiple type.

The exhibition given by Mrs. Francis M. Eakman and sixteen children last Saturday at the Rikeman's store was well attended. The visitors were enthusiastic over the children's excellent work.

Red Cross Committees Named Here

Shoes Needed For Fire Fighters and First Aid Kits Ready

The two major disasters reported last week, one in India causing the death of over 7000 people, the other in Texas, a tornado taking the lives of fifty-three persons, goes to show the need of a permanent disaster committee under Red Cross management in every community, says W. R. Humphries, head of Sierra Madre's chapter of the Red Cross.

The American Red Cross from the year 1881 to the end of 1928 rendered aid in 938 disasters in the United States. The amount of money expended for domestic disaster relief during that period totaled $49,594,000. The expenditures of the organization for both domestic disasters and disasters in insular and foreign places during the same period totaled $77,350,000.

The problem of taking care of disasters and calamities is part of the activity of the Red Cross. Its congressional charter says: "To continue and carry on a system of national relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other national calamities, and to devise and carry out measures for preventing the same."

Committee Is Named
Recently a permanent disaster committee for Sierra Madre has been organized.

Mrs. J. H. Wright was appointed chairman of the disaster committee. Mrs. Wright's experience in past mountain fire and flood calamities making her well fitted for this important work. Present at this meeting were L. G. Wallace, of the County Forestry department, Fire Chief Richards and J. T. Swanson, Mr. Swanson representing the trained first aid corps of the local fire department; V. P. Vetter, of the United States Forest Service, and his assistant, Bob Newberry; R. O. Calkin, of the Red Cross, Mrs. E. C. Barker, Mrs. J. H. Wright and Mrs. Humphries.

Survey Made Here
A survey was made and provision made for the handling of food and fire problems with, of course, attention being given to other disasters that might visit this section.

The committee will work with the following co-operating agencies: The City Council, Woman's Club, Kiwanis, American Legion, Legion Auxiliary, the Masons and with church organizations.

The following sub-committees were appointed by the chairman: executive vice chairmen of whole committee, W. R. Humphries and Jack Paschall.

Emergency Food Supply: Chairman, President of the Woman's Club; Vice Chairman, President of the Legion Auxiliary.

Medical Relief: Chairman, Municipal nurse.

Clothing: Chairman, R. O. Calkin; vice chairman, president of the Ladies Aid Society.

Shelter: Commander of the Legion Post; vice chairman, president of Kiwanis club.

Finance: Chairman, President of the bank; vice chairman, Master of Masonic lodge.

Purchasing Agent: M. D. Welsher.

Mr. Calkin, chairman of the clothing committee, has asked the heads of the women's organizations of all the churches in the city to act on his committee. By this general plan of placing heads of organizations in charge of the various committees, a continuous working personnel is assured.

Supplies for the First Aid and Medical division are being purchased. A tent with cots, chairs and two first aid kits will be used, together with a full supply of materials to aid fire fighters, such as foot baths, treatment supplies for burns and remedies for the care of the eyes, etc. Shoes will be collected, together with such clothing as shirts, pants, etc. This material will be classified and stored away at the city hall. The tent and first aid equipment is being designed so that it can be packed on a mule for mountain use, or transported by auto for other purposes.

Order First Aid Kits

Back of this local movement for preparedness is the national organization, which has an army of over 48,000 enrolled Red Cross nurses, subject to instant call and ready at all times to aid in disaster work.

It is being planned to hold a demonstration just as soon as the disaster committee is properly organized, at which time the committee will be able to show its work and check up on its activities.

Woman's Club Notes

By LAURA E. CADMUS

PERSONALITIES and Personal Reminiscences of Other Club Days" was presented by Mrs. Edith Hawxhurst, charter member of the Woman's Club, at the luncheon on Wednesday honoring charter members.

Mrs. Hawxhurst called upon Mrs. W. S. Andrews, Mrs. L. Dietz, Mrs. J. C. Dickson and Mrs. Caroline Collins, president-elect of the Torrance Woman's Club, charter members, who responded with glimpses from the past.

A tribute was paid to the late Mother Caroline Lincoln Osgood, founder of the club, by Mrs. George F. Ferris. Mrs. Ferris presented Mrs. Nestor A. Young, who told of personal associations with Mother Osgood as a member of her household.

Mrs. Hawxhurst and Mrs. Ferris were presented by Mrs. John H. Robertson, president of the club.

Other charter members present at the luncheon were Mrs. Harriet Wright, president emerita, Mrs. C. W. Jones, Mrs. Cora Costello, Mrs. Alice Staples and Mrs. Irving N. Ward.

Miss Marie Crowe, Monrovia artist exhibiting this month at the Little Art Gallery, and Mrs. Homer B. Tuttle, of this city, whose works were exhibited at the gallery last month, also honored guests of the club, were presented by Mrs. Fred Griebenow, chairman of art.

Corsages for each charter member and table decorations were arranged by Mrs. Emile Smith and Mrs. Nestor A. Young.

A gift to the club of $25.00 by Mrs. Grace J. Hall was announced by Mrs. Robertson, who urged co-operation of all club members in disposing of year books and penny-a-day banks for the Federation Foundation Fund.

J. Smith Damron gave an entertaining illustration of character building at the afternoon session of the club, with an old-fashioned potter's turning wheel, with which he fashioned several vessels of clay. While quoting gems from literature he demonstrated the author's thoughts through the evolution of a piece of clay.

Mr. Damron exhibited American art pottery and also specimens of the White House china. He told of ways to distinguish good china and advocated the use of American china, which, he said, is harder and better than that of foreign countries.

Favorite Dishes of Sierra Madreans

GUESTS at the home of Mrs. Alfred Leatherdale have a fond recollection of a delicious "Lemon pudding" frequently served there. It is after Mrs. Leatherdale's own favorite recipe and is distinctive.

Her recipe for this delightful dessert, that Mrs. Leatherdale serves four persons, follows:

Mix the following dry ingredients in a bowl:

- 1 scant cup sugar.
- 1-3 cup flour, sifted.
- Grated rind of 1 lemon.
- Mix all together.

In a separate bowl beat two egg yolks and add to them the juice of one lemon.

Stir into first mixture and add melted butter generously, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour into small pan and place this pan in another of boiling water. Bake in moderate oven for half an hour.

The pudding settles to the bottom and the cake on top. Can be served with whipped cream or plain.

(Next week THE NEWS will publish the recipe for Mrs. W. E. Walker's famous chicken pies.)

Bathe In Sunshine, But Beware, Warns Health Director

Exposure commensurate with decency will be the motto of the California bathing beauty this summer, if she takes the advice of the state department of health. Cheerfully admitting that "decency" is a word to be defined in various local ordinances, the department has reiterated its edict that sunshine is the way to health.

"Take it easy at first," is the opening admonition. "A healthy tan on the legs, arms and back, is not acquired in a day. Take a long beach wrap that will completely cover you. Then expose the body to the sun for a few minutes in the morning and afternoon of the first day. Follow this with longer periods of exposure, until the sun does not smart after the sun bath. For dark complexioned persons the flesh may become accustomed to the sun within a few days. Blondes may take a week or more."

Quinn Appointed As Supervisor and Graves Is Chairman

The Los Angeles county board of supervisors was reorganized following the appointment by Governor C. C. Young of John R. Quinn to fill the vacancy from the fourth supervisory district caused by the death of R. F. McClellan, chairman of the board. Quinn assumed his duties Monday morning and Sidney T. Graves, member from the third district, was at once chosen as chairman.

This board has a budget of about $60,000,000 at its disposal and almost as much more of bond money for flood control and other activities, so that its responsibilities are among the greatest in the governmental system of the state. On assuming the board's chairmanship Mr. Graves announced that his policy would be "one of rational economy."

John R. Quinn, the new supervisor, was made director of the state department of military and veterans' affairs by Governor Young and is a former National commander of the American Legion. A native of Southern California, Mr. Quinn has been actively identified with civic, business and veterans affairs of this section of the state for many years.

He has been assigned to take charge of the various departments of the county government which were under the supervision of Mr. McClellan.

Monrovia Doubles, San Marino Earns Record for Growth

Monrovia is jubilant over the census count, which shows a population of 10,880, compared to 5480 in 1920, a gain of 98.5 per cent.

San Marino came through with 3719, a gain of 537 per cent, leading all the valley cities in growth. San Marino, of course, has had the benefit of the opening of the vast Huntington estates.

Rapid growth of the communities was also evidenced from the figures announced for the city of San Gabriel, the population of which is 7721, compared to 2640 in 1920, a gain of 173 per cent. The population of the county districts to the east of San Gabriel, and sometimes included with that city, has made an even greater gain. The entire San Gabriel Valley probably will total close to 700,000 when all returns are made. South Pasadena's population is 13,724. Ten years ago the city had a total of 7652.

Whittier has 14,808 as against 7997 in 1920.

700,000 With $14,500,000 to Spend Coming

Tourist Army On The Way Promises to Break All Records This Year

Thousands of tourists with millions of dollars to spend are already on their westward trek to California. And now is the time for Sierra Madre civic organizations to get ready their literature and propaganda to attract these visitors—because many of them are coming to locate.

Such is the assertion of A. B. Gray, manager of the California Tourist Association, who says that this year's crop of tourists will be different from any that has hitherto come to the Golden State.

"The near panic in the East, coupled with general unfavorable business conditions, has caused thousands to start for California," Gray said. "Many are coming with the savings of a lifetime, to start life anew where there is sunshine, fruit and flowers."

From May 1 to November 1 approximately 225,720 tourists will enter California from the north by way of Crescent City, Yreka and Alturas, Gray predicts. Another 185,000 will arrive from the north and east by way of Alturas, Susanville, Truckee, Glenbrook, Bishop and Big Pine. Over the southern routes, through Yuma, Calexico, etc., will flock an additional 390,000.

"At an extremely conservative estimate this army of tourists will spend during their first two weeks in California the sum of $48,043,000," Gray continued. "This will be divided about as follows: Retail stores, $14,122,960; hotels and camp grounds, $9,608,640; restaurants, bakeries, gas stations and garages, $14,500,000; miscellaneous expenditures, $9,521,400. A large majority will remain more than two weeks and 50,000 will stay at least until 1931."

That this year's trek of the vacation-minded into the countless pleasure haunts of this state will be highly satisfactory is the prediction of Felix S. McGinnis, vice president of the Southern Pacific, who says arrangements have been made for expeditious and comfortable handling of the nation's travelers.

Canyon Park Notes

By LAURA E. CADMUS

R and MRS. LEON S. GRISWOLD entertained the following guests at a picnic supper Saturday night: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Milliken and daughter Barbara of Hollywood; Donald Duncan, Manhattan Beach; and Mrs. Griswold's niece, Miss Lucile Kistler, of Los Angeles.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Dishman, of Los Angeles, were guests for the day. A contribution from Mr. Dishman of four new bird houses, one of which is modeled on lines of the ferry building at San Francisco, were added to the home already placed for convenience of the feathered songsters in the bird sanctuary of the outdoor living room at Three Twin Oaks.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Laws on Thursday of last week and on Sunday were Mr. Laws' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey P. Laws, of Modesto, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Laws, of Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Corum and daughter Alice returned to their home on Sturtevant trail on Monday from a two weeks' vacation at Avila Beach. While her parents enjoyed a rest at the beach, Miss Corum attended school in San Luis Obispo.

Mrs. Blake C. Maxwell, 600 Woodland drive, left on Tuesday for Long Beach, where she will be joined later by Mr. Maxwell. Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell will manage the apartments of Mrs. Maxwell's father, P. Callaghan, at 60 Argonne avenue in Long Beach, during the summer.

Luncheon guests of Frank E. Cox and Mrs. Josephine Woodward last Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ray and granddaughter, and Mrs. Frank Miller, of Hollywood.

Mrs. Margaret Colby returned home Monday from a week's visit with her sister in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Munger left on Friday for Elsinore, where they plan to remain for a week.

Mrs. J. B. Roberts left Monday for her home in Hollywood, following a month's stay at Sunshine Inn, on Woodland drive.

From other sections, thousands of Californians are planning to avail themselves of the special east-bound summer excursion offers, effective May 22, McGinnis said.

Deluge Gives Hills Beauty, Helps Crops

Increased Water Supply More Than Offsets Danger from Fire Hazard

The deluge of rain in this district last week will have a counter effect—it will increase the water supply, keeping the streams running longer into the summer, but at the same time while it will decrease the fire hazard for a time it will increase the peril later on when the greater tree and brush growth, given a spurt by the added moisture, dries out in the off season of rain. The hills will be more luxuriant, the tree roots will go deeper. The real benefit derived from the downpours will be visited on the orchards and farms in the valleys, the value to them being almost incalculable.

The storms had the effect of setting back many fishermen, who were unable to invade the high mountain streams during the first week of the open season. Mount Wilson, Baldy and Great Bear trails were made impassable by the snowfalls. The sunshine of the early days this week started thaws and opened up the trails.

Late rains and improved roads are expected to be twin lures in California's national parks this season, according to forecasts by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Last year nearly one-fourth of the 2,680,597 persons visiting Uncle Sam's big playgrounds were campers at the four national parks in this state. This year it is expected that these four parks will attract 1,000,000 visitors.

Yosemite is one of the few national parks that is open year around, and motorists planning to visit other national parks should be careful to note the opening and closing dates of the season, points out the motoring club.

These dates for other important national parks are as follows: Mt. Rainier national park, Washington, July 1 to Sept. 20; Crater Lake, Oregon, July 1 to Sept. 20; General Grant, Calif., May 15 to Oct. 1; Glacier, Mont., June 15 to Sept. 15; Grand Canyon (south rim), Ariz., all year; Lassen Volcanic, Calif., June 1 to Sept. 15; Mesa Verde, Colo., May 15 to Nov. 1; Mt. McKinley, Alaska, June 1 to Sept. 15; Platt, Okla., all year; Rocky Mountain, Colo., all year (summer season June 15 to Sept. 20); Sequoia, Calif., May 15 to Oct. 1; Yellowstone, Wyo., June 20 to Sept. 19 (open June 1 to Oct. 15 for motorists); Zion, Utah, June 1 to Sept. 30.

KICKED WRONG SHIN IN "HER GOLDEN CALF"

Preparedness is all right provided you are prepared on all fronts.

That is a lesson El Brendel, famous Swedish comedian, learned by painful experience during the making of Her Golden Calf, Fox Movietone comedy with music, coming tomorrow to the Fox Theatre, Pasadena, for a week's run. Sue Carol, Marjorie White and Richard Keene are also in the cast. In this picture, El Brendel is a Swedish cartoonist who lives with Jack Mulhall, an artist. In one scene Jack has occasion to kick his shin. After a dozen retakes of the scene, El Brendel called a halt.

"Wait a minute," he said, "I've an idea."

He then took a strip of board and tied it over his shin.

The scene started again and Jack cut loose with a real kick. A wild yell from Brendel stopped the scene.

"What's the matter, El?" asked the director, "I thought you were prepared."

"He kicked the other shin," Brendel moaned.

SUPERB MIMICRY OF A CHILD WINS HER FAME

Mimicry of the famous people of stage and screen has led eight-year-old Mitzi Green to the distinctive position of being the first child ever signed to a contract by Paramount.

She got her chance through a volunteer performance given at an actors' benefit at Freeport, L. I. In this performance Mitzi mimicked to telling effect a number of stage celebrities and caught the eye of a booker in the audience.

After an interview, she was given the part of Zinnie, Mary Brian's precocious half-sister in The Marriage Playground. Her performance in this picture led to a Paramount contract and her appearance in Paramount on Parade, which comes today to the Fox Strand Theatre, Pasadena, for a week's stay.

FIVE LITTLE GERMS IN VEGETABLES AND FRUITS AID HEALTH

Here's a new one—five little germs found in fruits and vegetables, such as apples, figs, oranges, potatoes and turnips, aid health. The discovery was made by Quincy C. Tucker, laboratory statistician at the United States Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va. They are vital to life, he says, and give strength to the human body, supplying vitamins, and without them the race would be poisoned and cease to exist.

"They resist any amount of heat or cold," he says, "and stop their action when sealed in cans, remain dormant until the can is opened, then renew life and multiply. We consume them every time we eat certain fruits and vegetables, and they do us good."

FAY WRAY'S SPANISH STARTLES WAITRESS

"Geev me won ver" beeg piece off cake an' somme eyce cream."

A waitress at the Paramount studio restaurant gasped when she received this order from Fay Wray, knowing the young actress spoke English naturally.

Miss Wray smiled broadly and explained that she was merely practicing her dialect for "The Texan," Paramount's companion picture to "The Virginian." In "The Texan," which came to the Fox Colorado Theatre in Pasadena yesterday for a week's run, Miss Wray is cast opposite Gary Cooper and plays the role of a Spanish senorita. For weeks before the filming of the picture she studied Spanish under a competent tutor.

On the same bill the Fox Colorado presents the premier of Fanchon and Marco's lavish "Romance" Idea. Fox Movietone News rounds out the program.

CATTELL, SPONSOR OF EQUAL SUFFRAGE BILL, VISITS HERE

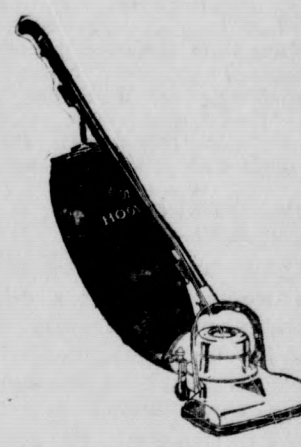

H. G. Cattell, member of the State Board of Equalization, who is making a trip over his territory, looking after appraisements of property and equalization matters, visited Sierra Madre on Wednesday in company with his wife, who is a former resident.

Mr. Cattell's district consists of the counties of Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino, and contains more than half of the Republican voters of the State and far more than half of the assessed valuation. He has represented this district for the past ten years and has announced his candidacy for reelection. It was he who, in 1911, introduced the amendment in the legislature providing for equal suffrage in California.

Gas Tax May Help Pay For Streets Here

Movement Is Started to Give Cities Part of 3-Cent Levy Taken By State

A portion of the state three-cent gasoline tax may be used to aid Sierra Madre in paving and maintaining streets within its borders, if a plan proposed by various California organizations is adopted by the next legislature. Originally conceived by the California Taxation Improvement Association as part of their program to effect lessening of special assessments in cities throughout the state, the idea has been adopted by many other publicly minded organizations.

All interests believe that property owners in the city areas should have the benefit of the tax in the construction and maintenance of main traffic arteries," explained Secretary Marvin L. Arnold of this association, in a letter to the United Press. "It is the only fair plan. Property owners are now bearing the entire cost of city street systems, and confederate assessments have been placed on property in many cities for paving work."

"Many automobiles do the majority of their driving within city limits. But their gasoline tax is used solely for building and maintaining roads outside city boundaries."

Los Angeles Wins Another Record -- But Not So Good

Breaking the law cost residents of L. A. County exactly $384,142.01 in fines last year. The offenses included everything from peddling without a license, craps, shooting, "stepping on the gas" on state highways, to assault and battery, selling home brew, and common theft.

Last year marked a substantial gain in crime, as indicated by fines paid in incorporated cities, which totaled $4,091,602.89 as compared with $3,823,817.76 the year previous. County fine collections aggregated $1,683,151 as against $1,705,335.23 the year before. The city fines resulted from conviction in municipal courts, while the county penalties were meted out by justice, probation and superior courts.

Los Angeles was the greatest lawbreaker. It had a total of $1,582,739, while the county of Los Angeles totaled $384,182. San Francisco's figures, which included both the city and the county, was $905,385.

Movement to Save Animals and Birds In Canyon Wilds

A plan to prohibit trapping, shooting and indiscriminate collecting of animals and birds in the canyons of the foothills, was launched at a meeting held at Junior College, Pasadena. The first step will be taken to protect Eaton canyon. It is proposed to ask all the cities of the valley to co-operate. Dr. Spencer R. Atkinson, the principal speaker at the meeting, declared that pothunters were operating indiscriminately in the canyons and showed pictures, taken by flashlight, of foxes which were maimed after being caught in traps.

"If Eaton canyon, as well as others, is kept in its natural wild state and the animals and birds protected," said Dr. Atkinson, "it would be a great help in biological study." He said dogs and cats should be forbidden, as well as traps.

Fire Flames

By One of The Boys

HERE have been a great many fish tales prevalent, but space prohibits relating all of them here. Some of 'em were good ones too.

We used to wonder what a fellow would do with the "limit" (which is twenty-five fish). This, of course, was before we had ever witnessed the fish that "Mac," Bob and Brooks brought home. A long time ago when as a boy, we called those minnows, or rather "minnies," and the largest one that either of these boys displayed would have been turned loose by "we-uns." To all old time fishermen who used to catch 'em back East in the old Allegheny river—why, say, it makes us laugh to see a great big he-man come puffing along a mountain trail with a string of "minnies" dangling at his side. Twenty-five of that size wouldn't even awaken our cat back there. When we caught 25 fish it required a fish wagon to carry them home.

Speaking of fish, makes us think of last Friday evening and our regular practice. Chief Richards must have been sort of on the war path. He sure watched every move. He marked him on time if he was, and vice versa. Orders were immediately given and each fellow instructed as to his particular station. Assistant Chief George Norris was given a crew to "put out a fire" and despite the fact that his crew was of a corpulent nature, they set a wonderful pace for the others to follow. Harry Peterson, our engineer, was instructed by the chief to give the boys an examination on "pump operation." One can very easily forget without practice. The engine pumper is working much better since a minor repair job has been done.

After practice we had as a guest at our meeting Mr. Lees of the city council fire committee. "Bill" was about to make a speech but evidently "Shorty" Steinberger had heard him speak before, so he put a stop to that. "Shorty" paid his semi-monthly fine. Brooks also paid a fine, but not without protest. He insists that he said "Gosh," but he paid the fine. Despite many objections the chief insists that after we get our uniforms, we must wear them on practice night. "Look at you fellows! There's one with corduroy pants, one with palm beach, one with overalls and what not—a h—of a looking bunch of firemen!" growled the chief. "Fine him!" fine him! responded the other nineteen brave lads, and Bill our chief paid his fine like a good papa.

It was good news to hear that our very handsome policeman, Harlan Gerlach, is about to join the "telephone brigade." Won't be long now until someone will be calling Harlan to the phone with "Harlan, your wife's calling!"

H. A. Thew will embellish the table at our next meeting, which is not a small inducement for another 100 per cent attendance.

The chief says that the rains are about over now and the grass and brush will begin to dry very fast. Be careful with your outdoor fires, your matches, cigarettes and camp fires. But if you should have a fire, call us quick—we want to put the Fires Out!

AT OSTEOPATH CONVENTION Dr. May C. Laidlaw will attend the State Osteopathic Convention to be held in San Diego the last week in May. She expects to visit Mrs. E. E. Scantlebury and Mrs. Lynn C. Wright while there.

ROMANTIC STORY OF RAMONA TO BE RETOLD

Final performances of the 1930 season of the Ramona Pageant will be given in the Ramona Bowl at Hemet tomorrow and Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock. These performances are in addition to the regular pageant season and are being given because the showings of May 3 and 4 were canceled on account of rain.

The entire cast of 200 has been held intact for these post-season performances. Dorice Schukow will be seen in the title role and Herbert Heyes, noted screen and stage player, will portray the role of Alessandro. The supporting cast is composed of widely known performers and Hemet-San Jacinto men, women and children who have participated during the seven previous years.

Because of the recent rains the Ramona Bowl, natural flower-banked amphitheatre at the foot of Mt. San Jacinto, will be more attractive the coming week end than it has ever been before. Seats are provided for 6,000 spectators.

ALL INDIANS ENJOY CITIZENSHIP NOW

To doubt the citizenship of people whose ancestors were the first residents of America does seem strange. Yet any number of people are heard to wonder whether Indians are citizens of the United States. The answer, as given by the Federal Board of Indian Commissioners, is that all Indians without exception are citizens.

Until about six years ago, only two-thirds of them had become citizens through a series of special enactments. An act passed in June, 1924, extended citizenship to all those still outside the fold.

California Dairy Products Double Its Citrus Fruits

California produces more dairy products than citrus fruits, declared Dr. W. E. Stone, secretary of the National Milk Producers Association, at a luncheon at the Athletic Club, Pasadena. While citrus products last year amounted to $72,000,000 in the state, Dr. Stone said that dairying alone totaled more than double that in value, or $145,000,000. Yet California imported 25,000,000 pounds of butter and 20,000,000 pounds of cheese.

"So, you see, your state bathed in its glorious sunshine, is nowhere near the overproduction point in dairying, whatever it may be in some other crops," said Dr. Stone. "And, as far as the entire nation is concerned, it is a $19,000,000,000 industry, with subsidiary industries representing another $14,000,000,000; so its prosperity has an important bearing on the nation."

To argue with a man who has renounced his reason is like giving medicine to the dead—Thomas Paine.

TRIPLE WEEK-END BILL AT WISTARIA THEATRE

Patrons of the Wistaria Theatre who have been attracted by the quality of the sound equipment and by the excellent pictures Managers Armstrong and Bergien are securing for their entertainment, have a treat coming this Saturday and Sunday.

The great triple bill scheduled for these days includes The Rampant Age, a fast-moving, absorbing feature with James Murray, Myrna Kennedy and Eddie Borden; the Hollywood Wonder Kiddies in Kiddie Kabaret, recorded by RCA phonograph; and a Felix cartoon, Tarzan of the Apes will be added at the Saturday and Sunday matinees, particularly intended for the younger folk.

A blood-curdling, hair-raising epic of early Western justice is Riding Law, the feature billed for the Wistaria next Wednesday and Thursday.

This picture comes up to the standard set by the new managers in their selection of programs for the local theatre. Managers Armstrong and Bergien particularly solicit opinions and criticisms of Sierra Madre people with regard to their policy and wish to thank the community for the increased interest shown in the destinies of the community theatre.
